John DeMaio, DC, CCN

Dr. John DeMaio was born and raised in Bowie Maryland. He attended his undergraduate pre-med studies at Prince George's Community College and the University of Maryland. He was then accepted to New York Chiropractic College where he received academic honors. In addition, he was elected Director's Assistant at Levittown Outpatient Facility where he served his two year internship.

After receiving his Doctorate of Chiropractic degree, Dr. DeMaio returned to Maryland and began his practice in 1990 in Annapolis. In 1995 Dr. DeMaio moved and developed a chiropractic family practice in Crofton, MD. As a physician, (many look to Dr. DeMaio as their Holistic family doctor) he incorporates a full spectrum of medical and holistic diagnostic procedures along with nutritional, medical and "home remedy" treatments which simply "fill in the gap" in the medical care of his patients. His philosophy is to treat the cause, not the symptom and to allow the body to heal itself, when able. He is Board Certified in AMA Guides to Spinal Impairment and Disability Ratings, which allows him to effectively deal with work injuries and disabilities.

Dr. DeMaio is an executive board member of the Maryland Chiropractic Association and has been the chiropractic sports physician to Bowie State University Athletic Department. As part of his commitment to the advancement of chiropractic care he frequently lectures on chiropractic physiology and nutrition throughout the state for the public and other healthcare providers, as well as serving on the Maryland DHMH State Board of Chiropractic Examiners Rehabilitation Committee. He is a candidate for the board certification diplomate in clinical nutrition.

He has treated over 9,000 patients from the local community, Virginia and Washington D.C. and continues to collaborate with other physicians, neurologists, orthopedists, neurosurgeons, and physiatrists dedicated to the health and well-being of all patients. He believes in a conservative approach and makes the proper medical referrals and recommendations when more aggressive treatment is necessary.
